

Biological samples are potentially hazardous. Wear gloves when handling samples for protection and to maintain integrity of the DNA and prevent contamination

The blades are extremely sharp - Handle with care. Store used blades in the manila envelope provided until they can be disposed of in a sharps container.

The preservation fluid contains DMSO, an irritant which is readily absorbed through the skin. Wear gloves when handling to prevent exposure.

Please see reverse for Occupational Health & Safety Information

